Acrobat Security Updates: What You Should Know

Adobe released Acrobat 9.0 in June, 2008. Today the current release is Acrobat 9.3.4. Over the last two years, Adobe has released updates to Acrobat and Reader– versions 8 and 9 – to enhance product security. We urge all of our customers to apply these patches.

Security Model and Lifecycle

Acrobat is a challenging application in some ways because it behaves both as a desktop application that you use to create and manipulate PDF, as well as a web application that runs inside the browser.

The Acrobat development team uses a Secure Product Lifecycle model for development. Essentially, this means that we continually stress-test Acrobat to find and close security holes before hackers can exploit them. Adobe works with Microsoft to make sure that when the operating system and browser interact with Acrobat and Reader, that security is maintained. Adobe also works with key security vendors to monitor threats and security responses. Adobe now ships regular security updates more regularly and we will push out any emergency updates immediately.

Patch Tuesdays

In order to make it easier for our enterprise customers to anticipate new dot releases, Adobe will be delivering Acrobat security updates on “Patch Tuesday”. Patch Tuesday is the second Tuesday of the month, the same time when Microsoft releases security updates. Most of our customers are ready to go with staff and resources at this time. This should allow larger organizations to leverage existing processes to update their desktops.

Critical Releases

Sometimes, critical security fixes must be delivered as soon as possible. In this case, Adobe may issue an immediate security fix. If a critical fix pre-dates a “Patch Tuesday”, we may skip a “Patch Tuesday” fix.

Adobe Reader Updates on by Default in Adobe Reader

Starting with Adobe Reader 9.3.3, Adobe turned on mandatory updates. Although most enterprise customers deploy updates for their user population, this change helps everyone. By ensuring that “Mom and Pop” have the latest version of Adobe Reader, the overall threat landscape is lowered.

Next Major Adobe Reader Release to run in Protected Mode

Scheduled for inclusion in the next major version release of Adobe Reader, Protected Mode is a sandboxing technology based on Microsoft’s Practical Windows Sandboxing technique. With Adobe Reader Protected Mode enabled (it will be by default), all operations required by Adobe Reader to display the PDF file to the user are run in a very restricted manner inside a confined environment, the “sandbox.” Should Adobe Reader need to perform an action that is not permitted in the sandboxed environment, such as writing to the user’s temporary folder or launching an attachment inside a PDF file using an external application (e.g. Microsoft Word), those requests are funneled through a “broker process,” which has a strict set of policies for what is allowed and disallowed to prevent access to dangerous functionality.

ADOBE® CUSTOMIZATION WIZARD 9

Take control of enterprise-wide Adobe Acrobat® and Reader® installations

A free downloadable utility, Adobe Customization Wizard 9 is designed to help IT professionals take greater control of enterprise-wide deployments of Adobe Acrobat 9 and Adobe Reader 9 software. With it, you can customize Acrobat installer and application features prior to deployment. Providing a graphical interface to the Windows® installer for Acrobat, the Customization Wizard enables IT administrators to:

- Modify the installer via a Transform file (or MST file) without altering the original package (MSI file)
- Customize the look and feel of Acrobat or Reader before deployment to meet the unique needs of the user base

The customized Acrobat installer can be set to run virtually anytime, anywhere throughout the enterprise, whether the install is pulled from a server or pushed silently.

Acrobat and Reader have provided IT-focused customization tools since Acrobat 5.0. Reflecting Adobe's continued commitment to the IT administrator, Adobe Customization Wizard 9 was built in-house by Adobe engineers. As a result, Acrobat installations can now be deployed more quickly and supported more easily than ever before.

Adobe Customization Wizard 9 works with the Adobe Acrobat 9 family of products:

- Adobe Acrobat 9 Pro Extended
- Adobe Acrobat 9 Pro
- Adobe Acrobat 9 Standard
- Adobe Reader 9

Adobe Customization Wizard 9 uses a simple project metaphor to create and edit MST files for the Acrobat and Reader installers. After you launch the Wizard, just point to a copy of the application's installer folder on the local machine or server, and select the MSI file. Any changes made in the wizard will be saved to an MST file that will be automatically created in that same folder and referenced by the installer. Adobe Customization Wizard 9 also provides the ability to roll back any changes, copy the entire installer folder to a new location, and import and export MST files to and from different locations. Finally, if you are deploying with Microsoft Systems Management Server (SMS), the wizard can include SMS settings in your package.

Use the free Adobe Customization Wizard 9 utility to customize installation of the latest versions of Adobe Acrobat and Reader throughout your enterprise.
